COUNTY RED CROSS DRIVE FOR $26,117 IS LAUNCHED

ACTIVITIES OF ORGANIZATION ON INCREASE

Warren County's Red Cross fund opens today with a goal of $26,117 to be reached before the end of the month. Feeling at Red Cross Headquarters today is one of confidence that the goal can and will be reached. It is confidently expected that the goal will be well within sight by Monday, March 9th.

This feeling stems not from over-confidence but rather from the knowledge that Warren county folks have always evidenced a keen interest in the work of their Red Cross and have taken pride and satisfaction in liberally supporting its fund drive every year.

Gone are the days of dollar memberships for with the advent of World War II the Red Cross has been called upon by the federal government to play an increasingly important part in the welfare work connected with the armed forces, their dependents and survivors; as well as continue to maintain its high standards of excellence in its local activities.

Between the end of World War II and the Korean hostilities the work given the Red Cross did not slacken appreciably and since Korea there has been a steadily mounting curve of activity in all branches of Red Cross work.

While the Blood Donor campaign is perhaps one that touches the heart strings of most persons more personally than anything else it must be remembered that in Disaster Service alone the Red Cross was required to surmount two great disasters this past year.

March Blows in With High Wind and Snow

March roared its way into Warren county with great gusts of wind, heavy snow, and a light mixture of rain to make driving conditions, during the first few hours of March, the worst of the entire winter.

Then, not satisfied with its formidable entry, the new month brought a repeat performance. Saturday night, which was even worse and nearly paralyzed the countryside.

Friday night's late drivers crept over the treacherous roads and streets, gave sighs of relief as they reached home, and said "Well, that's over for this year." They spoke too soon and if they were out and about on Saturday night, they went all through it again, with increased tempo.

Friday night's late drivers crept over the treacherous roads and streets, gave sighs of relief as they reached home, and said "Well, that's over for this year." They spoke too soon and if they were out and about on Saturday night, they went all through it again, with increased tempo.

Parks Commissioner Gilbert H. Reier reported only a trace of snow to start off Friday at 7 a. m., three inches recorded by 7 a. m. Saturday, and three more by 7 a. m. Sunday. Four inches remained on the ground at 7 a. m. today, with an additional five inches promised for tonight in early weather reports.

Firemen From Five Departments Battle $20,000 Blaze at Bear Lake GLF Mill

Fire of undetermined origin did about $20,000 damage to the GLF mill, Bear Lake, Sunday morning, and was extinguished after a five hours' battle by 75 firemen from five towns with nine trucks in use.

Discovered at 10:30 a. m. by Wilton Weaver, an employee of the mill who lives about 50 feet away, the Sugar Grove department was notified. Panama, Columbus, Lakewood and Eusti responded to the alarm, the New York companies assisting under the mutual aid arrangement. Celoron sent a truck to stand by in Sugar Grove while its two trucks were at Bear Lake. Mr. Weaver had been in the mill at 8 a. m. and found everything in order. The manager, Doyle Tughe, lives in Corry.

Water was at first available from a small stream not far from the mill but when this ran out, the trucks had to race to the banks of Bear Lake, two miles away, to fill their tanks.

The mill, a Quonset-type structure covered with metal sheeting, suffered about $10,000 damage, it was estimated, while $9,000 is believed to cover the damage to grain and other contents. A mill on the same site was destroyed in 1948 by a fire believed to have been set by safe-crackers who were subsequently apprehended. Most of Sunday's damage was caused by dense smoke.

The various fire departments did not reach home until late in the afternoon.

Bell Company Spending Large Sum on New Equipment Being Installed Here and in Russell

A new long distance switchboard is now being installed in the Warren Central Office of The Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania, which will result in speedier service on most out-of-town calls. It was announced today by H. M. Stevenson, district manager of the company.

The new switchboard, which will cost $226,150 and is scheduled to be placed in service late in May, will have equipment permitting operators to dial calls direct to telephones in Bradford, Corry, Oil City, Youngsville, Ridgway, Grand Valley, Tidioute and Erie, he said.

This will mean that on toll calls to these points, only one operator will be needed to handle each call. At the present time, it is necessary for the Warren operator to "pass" the call to another operator at the terminating central office, and the second operator makes the connection to the desired telephone.

At the same time, late in May, Stevenson said, the name of the Russell Office will be changed to "Plateau" when new and larger dial central office equipment is placed in service there. This change is in accordance with the nationwide Bell System toll dialing program and makes it easier for operators to dial long distance calls.

All Russell subscribers will be assigned new telephone numbers at that time, and to make local calls, they will dial the first two letters of the new central office name, "PL," followed by the five digits of the number. A directory supplement, with all the new listings, will be distributed to all Russell and Warren subscribers just before the change.

This project will cost approximately $46,350 which includes the construction of an addition to the building on Liberty street, Russell.

Stevenson said that after the new Warren long distance switchboard is placed in service, five of the operators' working positions on the present long distance switchboard will be changed to handle local calls, at a cost of about $40,000.

This will enable the Warren office to handle more than 600 new subscribers, and will provide facilities for all of the 162 persons now waiting for service in Warren. It is expected all will receive telephones in July, he said.

Another equipment addition is scheduled for early in 1954 which will increase the capacity of the central office by another 400, he added.

The new long distance switchboard will have facilities for 15 operators to work at one time, as compared to 13 now. The local switchboards, at which 18 operators can now work, will be increased to 23 working positions in June and 25 next year.

The new Russell dial equipment will have an initial capacity to handle about 700 subscribers, an increase of about 100 over the present capacity. Facilities for another 100 subscribers are expected to be added during 1954, Stevenson said.

FEUD BLAMED FOR CRISIS IN JAPAN'S DIET

Tokyo (P)—Prime Minister Shigeru Yoshida threatened today to dissolve the Diet (parliament) after the House agreed to consider a motion of censure against his pro-American administration.

A spokesman for his dominant Liberal party, Eiaku Sato, said Yoshida might be forced to invoke a law requesting Emperor Hirohito to dissolve the elective body. The Emperor cannot deny the request.

The House threatened to overthrow Yoshida's shaky government earlier today by sending to a censure committee a motion to reprimand the 74-year-old Prime Minister for calling a rival a "stupid idiot."

Yoshida tonight dismissed Agriculture Minister Kozen Hirokawa on grounds he had been uncooperative.

However, Yoshida waited until after the Diet had passed the budget bill in a night session before he fired Hirokawa.

Opposition spokesmen protested against the threat to dissolve the Diet. They said the national elections were held only last October and that they were "extremely expensive" for both the government and candidates.

Yoshida dissolved the Diet last August as the climax of a feud with Ichiro Hatoyama, speaker of the House.

Yoshida called an emergency meeting of the Cabinet today to study the situation.

State Gives Approval To Addition at Beatty

Maj. Gen. Strickler Boomed for Governor

Washington (P)—Maj. Gen. Daniel B. Strickler of Lancaster, Pa., said today that friends have suggested that he be a candidate for governor of Pennsylvania next year but that it is "too early" to give his answer.

"I am not injecting myself in the picture because I am still in the Army," he said in response to a reporter's questions.

A Republican, Strickler was lieutenant governor from 1947 until September, 1950, when he was called to active duty as commander of the 28th Division, a Pennsylvania National Guard outfit.

Seventy newspapers in 16 states are selling at seven cents, ANPA said, and 26 newspapers in three states are selling at ten cents.

Local Boy Has Visit From Wife of General Clark

PFC. PHILIP J. COLVIN, USA, above, is shown in the Tokyo Hospital being visited, Feb. 16, by Mrs. Mark Clark, wife of the commanding general in charge of Armed Forces in the Far East. With Mrs. Clark is Miss Jo Ann Turner, a graduate nurse.

Allied Infantrymen Smash Hard Attack Against U. N. Line

Seoul (P)—Allied infantrymen—battling at times inside their own bunkers—last night smashed a 750-man Chinese Communist assault against the main U. N. line on the Western Korean Front.

The U. S. Eighth Army reported the Reds were routed in a 3½-hour close-quarter fight. American, French and Thai infantrymen joined in the battle and were supported by British Commonwealth artillery.

The Chinese penetrated United Nations defenses at one point on a 5,500-yard front near Little Gibraltar Hill west of Yoncheon and partly overran an American platoon, but the Americans stood their ground and kicked the Reds out.

The Eighth Army reported nearly 200 Chinese were killed or wounded.

It was the heaviest Communist attack in more than a month.

Rain and wet snow fell on the battlefield today after the Reds retreated to their own lines. It turned the scene of Sunday night's battle into a veritable quagmire and made it difficult to communicate with the front lines.

The overcast grounded U. N. warplanes.

COUNTY AUTOIST HELD FOR TIPSYP DRIVING

Lawmakers Concentrating on Cutting Costs as Assembly Convenes for Third Month

Harrisburg (P)—Pennsylvania's lawmakers concentrated today on cutting costs of state government as the general assembly opened its third month.

And Republican leaders were prepared to talk over the possibility of "calling recess in order to hasten completion of consideration of the Chesterman Committee recommendations."

Sen. Rowland B. Mahany, Republican floor leader, said he intended to "put the question of a recess up to both houses" because "it seems there would be a savings all around if we could arrange one until the hearings are completed."

The House was expected to act quickly tonight to set up its half of a 30-man committee which will sit in on the public hearings over the 100 million dollar economy recommendations of the committee.

The Senate already has named its members to the legislative committee.

The hearings, now scheduled to begin next week, may last through March. They are receiving top priority over discussion of new taxes and other major administration measures.

Meanwhile, a Fair Employment Practices Commission bill—second major administration bill to be introduced to date—was expected to make its long-delayed appearance.

Sen. T. Newell Wood (R-Luzerne) is expected to introduce the FEPC bill in the Senate. The house measure will have several Republican sponsors.

The twice-amended administration constitutional convention bill was in position for final passage in the House as the late afternoon session opened.

Coudersport Man Faces Sentence On Manslaughter Case

Coudersport (P)—Alfred L. Sallade, 32, will be called into Potter County Court on March 7 for sentence on a conviction of voluntary manslaughter in the death of Charles P. Van Pelt, 19, member of a socially prominent Philadelphia family.

Judge Walter P. Wells denied a defense motion for a new trial on Saturday and fixed the date for Sallade's sentence. He faces a possible maximum sentence of 12 years in prison and a $6,000 fine.

Sallade, operator of an airport at nearby Cherry Springs Lake, was charged with the fatal shooting of Van Pelt and wounding of Erwin Bergdoll, 19, when the two youths, on a camping trip, approached the airport last Sept. 1. Bergdoll recovered.

Sallade testified at his trial he thought the youths were intent upon burglarizing the airport. He said the place had been robbed several times previously.

Sen. James S. Berger, Sallade's counsel, said a decision as to appealing the conviction will be made before sentence is imposed.

MORE SNOW FOR THE AREA IS PROMISED

Rising temperatures tomorrow, however, will change the snow to freezing rain. A high today of 33 is expected to jump to the 40's after a low tonight of 32.

MOSSADEGH'S SUPPORTERS KEEP CONTROL

Tehran, Iran (AP)—Mobs shouting anti-American slogans stoned U. S. cars and homes today as riots continued in Iran's capital. Premier Mohammed Mossadegh's supporters appeared to be gaining the upper hand in the demonstrations which have alternately assailed and defended the aged Nationalist leader.

Crowds hurled rocks at American homes on Roosevelt Ave., at the U. S. Embassy's administrative counselor Laurence C. Laurence C. Frank, and at cars driven by Embassy attache Warren Silver and by a secretary, Betty White. None of them was hurt.

One Iranian student was stabbed to death in a fight between Mossadegh supporters and members of the outlawed Communist Tudeh party trying to join a demonstration backing the premier.

The enraged mob carried the body of the student, a Mossadegh follower — to the Parliament Square and paraded it above the crowd, which swelled to an estimated 8,000 persons.

The crowd finally became so threatening that police dispersed it by shooting into the air and firing tear gas bursts.

At the anti-American outbreak, Point Four and consular offices in the city were closed and Embassy (Turn to Page Ten)

Women Have Last Word on Controlling Weight
By Talking Their Way to Slimness in Groups

By LEONARD RUPPERT
NEA Staff Correspondent

New York (NEA)—The overly plump woman was distressed. She shrugged her shoulders and looked around the room for sympathy. "What could I do?" she whimpered. "If I didn't take a bite, I'd snuff them."

She told of holiday parties, piles of cake and candy and her final surrender to temptation. Her equally plump listeners nodded sympathetically. Then they told her how to avoid such pitfalls in the future.

"It's all right to take a bite," they advised, "but make sure it's only a nibble. Make it last all night—as a social drinker does a martini. Or, better yet, ask for an apple."

Like similar groups in Boston, Akron, Berkeley and other cities, these women were talking their way to slimness. The method is called Group Weight Control. It might be called Carbohydrates Anonymous. It offers fat persons a new, safe and pleasant approach to the reducing problem and the results have doctors excited.

Often dubbed "conversational reducing," Group Weight Control is not a cure-all. It doesn't always work. Even when it does, it's usually a lengthy haul. But it's fun and hundreds of fat folks swear by it.

The plan was devised by Dr. A. L. Chapman of the U. S. Public Health Service three years ago. It's actually quite simple. Persons who need and want to lose weight first get the go-ahead from a doctor. They then meet weekly with other reducers and keep one another on the diet-wagon.

Some groups talk about food only occasionally. They spend most of their time trying to get at the emotional problems that cause their constant hunger pangs. These are the "psychotherapy groups," usually led by a psychologist or psychiatrist.

Nutritional groups talk about food almost exclusively. They teach their members about calories—what foods are good for them, what foods to avoid. They swap recipes and tales of their bouts with temptation.

Both types are proving successful. A psychotherapy group led by Chapman in Alexandria, Va., lost an average of 17.6 pounds per member in 20 weeks. Nutritional groups in New York's Public Health department are doing equally well under Dr. Norman Jolliffe.

A typical meeting in New York began with the group leader going over each member's diet chart. Those doing well were commended. Those slipping behind were asked what had happened.

Most knew exactly where they'd failed and admitted it sheepishly. Those who didn't know, or would not admit it, needed a different approach. By going back in detail over the week's nibbling incidents, counting up calories, and in general conversation, the others gradually drew them out.

One woman said her husband objected to eating her diet foods. ("Keep on the diet yourself," she was told, "but cook him a regular menu.")

Another woman wasn't eating the right foods because she didn't know how to make them appetizing. (She was flooded with recipes.)

Interest in the plans is high, as excess snuff is a major U. S. health problem. Some 30,000,000 persons are now "seriously" overweight—10 per cent or more above normal. The reason for fatness is simple—overeating. The common excuse that it's a "gland trouble" usually doesn't hold water. Fewer than 10 of 1000 fat persons have glands bad enough to influence their food usage. And even they can reduce by dieting.

The reason for overeating itself isn't so simple. Many doctors now believe it has emotional causes. The fat person may eat too much because he's bored, underloved, frustrated or in some way mentally upset.

Others pooh-pooh the emotional emphasis and say it's usually a matter of ignorance. Fat folks just eat the wrong foods, they explain, and must be taught to change their dietary habits.

Both sides agree that there's only one way to reduce. Just as eating too much brings fatness, eating less brings slimness. Going on a diet is a must. But often the reducer isn't determined enough, or doesn't know how to cope with the emotional upsets that led him to fatness in the first place.

This is where the group comes in. Sitting down together once a week in comfortable surroundings, giving each other pep talks, sharing advice on diet and personality problems, plump persons from coast to coast are finding that it's easier to fight their fat together.

The method isn't expensive. If not offered by the local health department, it can be started easily by churches, Y's and other groups with the members, themselves paying for it. The key to success is a qualified group leader. Ten to 15 a member for a 10- to 16-week course usually is enough to attract one.

Three Dimension Entertainment Is Coming to Warren

Manager George C. Sarvis, of the Library theatre, confirmed today the rumor that third-dimensional films will be offered in at least one of the Warren playhouses in the very near future. A definite statement regarding the plans to equip a local theatre is expected within a day or two, with announcement as to whether it will be in the Library or Columbia.

The first picture to be offered locally will be Arch Oboler's famous production "Buena Vista."

In connection with the report that Warren is to have three-dimensional entertainment, the following received by the Times-Mirror from the NEA Service, should be read with much interest by movie fans:

Hollywood—(NEA)—Closeups and Longshots: Hollywood chorus cuties have kicked their legs and flipped their bustles doing the French can-can in countless movies but I've never heard of a wife snatching her husband out of the audience while hissing: "Elbert, you've seen enough! You're going HOME!"

But now that 3-D movies are here it can happen.

I've just seen the first can-can dance sequence ever filmed in Natural Vision three-dimension, men, and—WOW!

It's for Warner's "House of Wax," due for release in April, and for the first time in history censors not only will be blushing but also ducking.

Those high-kicking legs leave the screen and come right out over the audience. And when the girls flip their bustles at the camera, you'll flip your toupees—if you wear one.

The illusion of things coming out into the audience is one of the big tricks of 3-D movies. For the same film, a ping-pong ball, attached to a paddle by a length of rubber, is batted directly at the camera. The effect is so realistic you'll be ducking.

"House of Wax" is a horror film with mad killer Vincent Price turning people into wax figures for his museum.

Maybe the wax figures won't melt but I assure you the candy bars in the audience will when those can-can dancers look like they're kicking all the bulbs out of the theatre chandeliers.

Legislatures More Inclined To Pass Buck Than to Adopt Some Measures, Boyle Finds

By HAL BOYLE

New York (AP)—Legislation is like erosion. It changes things—slowly.

Thousands of American legislators every year introduce thousands of bills designed to do everything from abolishing whooping cough to encouraging maternal instincts in the whopping crane.

This paper blizzard of proposed changes usually blows its way out with small results. A legislature is more inclined by human nature to pass the buck than to pass a controversial bill.

But the legislator who did introduce the bill is at least given the credit of a good intention. In this respect I have already picked my "hero solon of 1953."

He is State Sen. Walter Troxel of North Dakota, and he wants to make a simple but far-reaching change in an old American social custom. He seeks to make it illegal for a fellow to belly up to a bar and buy a round for all his buddies in the joint.

The senator is against the cherished cry, "This round's on me, boys," on the grounds it leads to excessive drinking. He feels cause

North Warren Show Has Successful Two Nights Engagement

"On Stage America," the minstrel and amateur show presented by the North Warren Fire Department, closed a successful two night engagement Saturday night. Deacon Dave and his Society Seven provided music before the show and at intermission.

Throughout the first part of the show various local amateur acts appeared. They were: Sally Scallie, dancer; Marilyn Armstrong, accordionist; Steve Lindquist, pianist; Diane Lundburg, dancer; Ann and Grace Conti, impersonators; Linda Lundburg, dancer; Red Barbide and Byron Gross, musical act; and the Sheffield Kitchen Band. The votes were cast by the audience and carried both nights of the show, and the final winners were announced at the performance Saturday night and presented with prizes.

Third place winner was little Linda Lundburg, who danced to "Ain't She Sweet." Second place went to the Sheffield Kitchen Band, composed of ten women, who played some of the cleverest instruments ever made—from home-made slide trombones to pots and pans. First place went to Grace and Ann Conti for their Dean Martin-Jerry Lewis act.

The show, under the direction of Joan Rueck, introduced much new talent to the local people, as far as the minstrel circle was concerned. The two end-men were George Cunningham, Jr. and Paul Duliba. Others were Gene Wenzel, Don Dalrymple, Jim Stanton, Ted Rogers, Pete Sanden, Ray Utley, Mike Siolek, Ralph Ward and Don Sharp was intercomer. Connie Dey was pianist for the show.

Estimate for February Milk Price Is Revised

New York—A revised estimate of $4.23 per hundredweight as the uniform price for February milk deliveries has been issued by Dr. C. J. Blanford, Market Administrator of the New York metropolitan milk marketing area.

In an earlier forecast Dr. Blanford had estimated the price at $4.32, nine cents higher than that made today, but he said the downward adjustment was necessitated by unforeseen declines in basic quotations used to determine prices.

The Market Administrator said he expected the producer butterfat differential for February to be six cents for each tenth of a pound of fat above or below the 3.5 per cent standard.

The uniform price forecast for February is based on a production estimate of 541 million pounds. This would mean an average daily output of 394 pounds by each of the estimated 49,000 producers in the milkshed.

Handlers must submit reports to the Administrator on the use made of their milk receipts for February not later than March 10. Using these reports, the Administrator will compute and announce the actual uniform price and butlerfat differential for February not later than March 14. Handlers must then make payments to their producers not later than March 25.

Chapter 29

It was odd how the memory of one kiss could devil a man; how the remembered pressure of one pair of lips could make a mad one forget every other woman he had ever known. Rimboud looked at his gun belt and went downstairs, noticing that it was ten minutes to nine by the lobby clock.

Rimboud observed Ernie Link lounging against the hotel hitch rack.

"I got somethin' to tell you," Link announced.

The tense tone of his voice stirred a faint bell of warning in Rimboud's brain, yet the doorway's shaft of lamplight revealed no gun at Ernie's hip.

"Save it for some other time," Rimboud suggested.

Link, moving his sling-supported right arm a trifle, shouted angrily, "Draw, Rimboud! Draw your gun!"

Utterly astonished by that challenge, Rimboud stared at Link in disbelief. "You gone loco?" he demanded.

"What's loco about me and you settlin' our grudge?" Ernie scoffed. "You had the luck before. Mebbe I'll have it this time."

And then, as Ernie's right arm moved again, Rimboud saw the twin snouts of the derringer, and understood that he was looking into double-barreled death.

"A cold deck," Rimboud muttered, calculating the distance between them at less than fifteen feet and knowing it wasn't enough. If he dropped flat the first bullet might miss him, but not the second one.

"I'm giving you a chance to grab," Link taunted. "The same chance you gave Red and Booger Bill."

Rimboud laughed at him. "Did you say chance?" he asked.

But there was no mirth in his laughter. This, he understood, was the thing he'd known would happen to him someday. It was inevitable. He had expected it, yet now that he was seeing it, and feeling it, he couldn't quite comprehend why Ernie Link was so set on killing him. The feud between Roman Four and the Spanish Strip homesteaders was over.

"What you waitin' for?" Link called scornfully.

Then his voice rose to high-pitched shrillness as he yelled, "Right now, Rimboud! Grab right now!"

RIMBAUD went down sideways with the derringer's report like the crack of a buggy whip above his head, that sound echoed by a crash of breaking glass. Rimboud snatched up his gun, but he didn't fire it. He just lay there, propped on the palm of his left hand, and peered at Ernie Link, who was draped head-down across the hitch rack.

It was the most astounding sight Jim Rimboud had ever seen. The most unexpected and inexplicable. For he hadn't fired a shot.

Rimboud got to his feet, wholly confused, and looked at Limpy Smith, who stood behind the hitch rack with the neck of a broken bottle gripped in his hand.

"Colonel's Monogram," Limpy muttered, peering at the whiskey that dripped from Link's dangling head.

That was when Sheriff Robillard came running up, and glanced at Link, and said wearily, "Another corpse for Art Green."

"No, just a drunk," Rimboud corrected. "Ernie took a whole quart of Colonel's Monogram at one gulp."

And then, seeing the disgusted expression on Limpy Smith's face, Rimboud loosed a whoop of rollicking laughter that hurt his side.

"What's so comical about me losin' a quart of good bourbon?" Smith demanded.

Rimboud walked over to him. "You did it again, by God—you did it again," he said, and patted Limpy's shoulder with real affection. "You saved my bacon for the second time, amigo."

Then Rimboud dug a gold piece from his pocket, saying, "Go buy another bottle, Limpy. I'll be over after I eat some supper and we'll have us a grand celebration. If Pat Finucane so much as frowns at you, tell the monkey-faced Mick I'll shoot his ears off."

Still chuckling, Rimboud turned and was crossing Main Street's wide pattern of alternate light and shadow when Eve Odegarde rushed up to him.

"Are you all right?" she demanded. "I heard a shot."

Her cheeks, faintly revealed by reflected lamplight, were flushed and marked by the sooty shadows of her long lashes. Rimboud grinned, his eyes frankly appraising. "You shouldn't be worrying about shiftless saddle tramps," he chided. "What will Sam Maiben think?"

"He knows," Eve said quietly. "Knows what?"

"Well, how it is with us."

And then she held up her left hand, showing him that the ring was gone. "I couldn't quit Sam while he was in trouble," she explained, her subdued voice barely above a whisper. "And there seemed no way to get him out of it—I just couldn't quit him when everything was bad for him, Jim."

"You couldn't?" Rimboud echoed dully.

"Don't you see how it was, Jim, with a posse chasing him and all? There didn't seem to be a chance of his being acquitted. I wanted to tell you how it was, that first night after you kissed me. But I couldn't think up the right words, or trust myself to be near you."

Slowly, in the deliberate way of a man not sure of his senses, Rimboud reached over and tilted her face so that he could see into her eyes. For a long moment he looked into them, not speaking or smiling. Just looking. And seeing all a man would ever want to see in a woman's eyes. Then he asked, "Is that what you meant, when you said your heart was hurting you?"

Eve nodded, meeting his gaze fully, as if willing for him to see how it was with her; wanting him to see.

"You did two women a favor when you cleared Sam of the rustling charge," she said. "Me and Della Stromberg. Della's been chasing Sam for months. Now she's got him."

"And I've got you," Rimboud said, taking her in his arms.

Her lips were there for him, moist and gently smiling; and her eyes, so warmly glowing, held a frank eagerness that hugely roused him. Yet he waited, savoring her womanly fragrance, and said, "Sweet Stuff," in a more humble tone than he'd ever used. Then he kissed her, and felt the full, sweet pressure of her lips, and knew there'd be no more lonely trails for him, ever.

NON-COMMUNIST OATH
It is a commonplace that Communists lie as easily as they talk. They think nothing of swearing a false oath if it suits their tactics of the moment. One may wonder, therefore, how the non-Communist oath required of all union officials by the Taft-Hartley law could ever have been even slightly useful. Nevertheless it was. That was so because many key labor men in 1946 and 1947 were well known as Reds. They could not have succeeded at the bald device of false swearing. Thus a good number were pushed off the labor stage. Others were penalized in a different way, when the CIO purged whole unions that were dominated by Communist leadership. But the pattern has changed. Key Red operators are deeper underground today and those planted in unions are not so easily recognizable. They can take the anti-Communist oath and never bat an eye, and who will be the wiser? The administration and some top lawmakers are talking of requiring the same oath of corporation managers, to "balance" matters. But the chances are that the oath has outlived its usefulness and might better be discarded altogether.
G-I-V-E-I
Civilian hospitals in this country must have whole blood on hand when it is needed. Last year the Red Cross collected 1,681,500 pints of blood for community hospitals—it furnished blood for half the hospitals in the United States. In addition to this program, wholly financed by the Red Cross, the organization serves as the agency for procuring blood needed by the armed forces and to build up a plasma reserve for grave national emergencies. The work of collecting blood must go on. Help support it with your liberal contribution to the 1953 Red Cross Fund campaign.
TOUGH ON SOCIAL CLIMBERS
By decreeing early working hours for his White House staff and for many of the people who inevitably deal with him, President Eisenhower has put a severe crimp in Washington's social life. The man who has to be at the White House door at 8 a. m. to see the President just can't be out partying until two o'clock the night before. Clearly this has the czarinas of the capital social set considerably disturbed. It is just possible there may be severe cutbacks in the list of hostesses long before the axe is applied to the federal bureaucracy.

Here And There
Through the enterprise and progressiveness of our energetic Chapter of the Junior Chamber of Commerce this community tonight will be privileged to entertain and hear the famous Pittsburgh Symphony Orchestra, in a concert at the Library Theatre. The orchestra, it is understood, will arrive in Warren some time during the afternoon in three special buses. After tonight's concert the musicians will be transported to Olean, N. Y., where a similar concert is scheduled Tuesday evening.
In connection with the local visit of the world-famous musical organization the following which appeared in J. Fred Lisselt's column "Realm of Music" in the Sunday issue of The Sun Telegraph, is of timely local interest:
Our contemplated Pittsburgh Symphony Orchestra concert in Carnegie Music Hall, New York City, for the coming weekend is really some years late. We should have done just that many years ago.
Before the regime of visiting directors our orchestra stood at its peak of excellence and could have competed with most orchestras in this country with success.
The orchestra again is on the upsurge under the able leadership of William Steinberg, backed by the board of directors, who mean business.
To appear before a strange audience, to get expert opinions of its standing from metropolitan reviewers who need only to be honest about their opinions will promote the morale of our players as well as prove to the east that we beyond the Alleghenies are also awake to the times.
It will be like a child beloved of its parents going out into the world for growth; like students pampered in the classroom getting into the competition in the broader scientific and business world.

EDSON IN WASHINGTON
Carrying Action to Red China Poses Some Practical Problems
BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent
WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Complete blockade of the Communist China coast and turning loose the forces of Chiang Kai-shek against the China mainland raise certain practical problems for the people who would have to carry out such measures.
This may be one of the more important reasons why Secretary of State John Foster Dulles was able to tell the U. S. Senate Foreign Relations Committee that the Eisenhower administration had no plans for such a blockade now.
As psychological warfare or cold war pressure against the Communists, the talk of more positive action is tops. It throws the Reds off balance and puts them on the defensive.
The current impression that these are brand new ideas, however, is not absolutely accurate. Ever since President Eisenhower returned from Korea in December, the additional measures that might be taken to shorten the Korean war have been openly talked about.
The apparent intent has been to let the American people and the leaders and people of other United Nations think these matters through and get used to the ideas they present. To be effective, any new actions in the Pacific must have support of the people at home, for increased casualties may be involved in the beginning.
It has been emphasized that a year or more might be required to complete all other plans. Withdrawal of the Seventh Fleet may therefore be considered only a first step.
Blockade of the China coast might be a natural second step. In carrying this out, however, certain precautions might have to be considered.
A blockade by one country against the commerce of another is an act of war. It can be argued—as Senator Taft argues—that the U. S. is already at war with Red China, and they started it.
A blockade of Red China by the U. S. would be a calculated risk. There is a way to avoid this risk by having the United Nations declare the blockade. This would be going only one step beyond action already taken by the UN.
In February, 1951, the UN General Assembly declared Communist China an aggressor in Korea. An Additional Measures Committee of representatives from 14 nations was named to recommend appropriate action.
In May, 1951, this committee recommended a "strategic embargo" against Red China. It called upon all nations to refrain from sending arms and military supplies to the aggressors. The U. S. had previously declared a total embargo on shipments to the Communist countries, but other nations did not do that far.
THE UN Additional Measures Committee is still in existence, though it has not met for some time. A logical step when the UN General Assembly reconvenes at the end of February would be a proposal for a complete blockade of the China coast.
Whether the General Assembly would approve such a blockade is anybody's guess. If it did, it would provide the backing of international law for an embargo that would not be an act of war. If it didn't, then the U. S. would have to decide whether to act alone.
There are certain practical strategic questions that have to be considered before putting a blockade into effect.
The U. S. Navy does not now have enough strength in the Pacific to impose a tight blockade on the entire 2000-mile China coast. If Red China decided to retaliate by an attack on Hong Kong, provision would have to be made to feed and defend that British island. In view of the possibility of a blockade, any order withdrawing the U. S. Seventh Fleet from the straits of Formosa would become somewhat meaningless. For a blockade would send the fleet back in greater strength.

Spiritual Diary for Lent
And the kingdom of heaven is as a man travelling into a far country, who called his own servants, and delivered unto them his goods. And unto one he gave five talents, to another one two, and to another one, to every man according to his several ability; and straightway took his journey.—Matthew 24: 14-15.
Talent is developed in retirement; character is formed in the rush of the world.
—Goethe
Today's Message
The Parable of the Talents, from which our text is taken, presents a lesson for us to learn in our every-day living. God's gifts are entrusted to us in an undeveloped condition, and the work of life is to discover and unfold all that can be produced out of them. The talents we possess, both natural and spiritual, are given us for life. It is our duty to make of them what we can; or, if we are so minded, we may make nothing of them at all. There are three courses open to us. We can administer the talents which God has poured into our lives as spendthrifts, as benefactors, or as misers.
Everyone has a vocation. We are creatures endowed by Almighty God with goods or talents for which we are responsible to Him. If we waste the goods entrusted to us, we are dissipating that which is not our own. If we take our light and hide it under a bushel, we are abusing our trust, just as the man with the one talent did in burying his master's gift beneath the ground.
Let us be mindful of the confidence and trust God has reposed in us, whatever talents we may possess, be they great or small. We all know that a man is better if he fails in a high endeavor than if he succeeds in a low one.
—FREDERICK S. FLEMING
Today's Prayer
Almighty God, whose loving hand hath given us all that we possess, grant that we may honor Thee with our substance and, remembering the account which we must one day give, may be faithful stewards of Thy bounty; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Hospital Patients Are Cheered By Visitation

The Military Order of Cooties and Cootettes visited the Warren State Hospital Saturday evening and held their February party for veteran patients. Besides the 72 patients who were able to attend the party there was a visitation of the bed patients conducted by Pete Baxter, an employee of the institution.

Cootie Al Arnold, hospital chairman, and Cootie Eric Jones, were masters of ceremonies. Music and songs were furnished by the "Key-stone Rangers," a popular local orchestra consisting of Simon Huckabone, Bob Sison, Arthur Filiger, Nancy Parker and Helen McCool. Cootie Jones did a very commendable job of leading the patients in group singing.

Cigarettes, snuff and candy were distributed to the patients and then lunch was served by the following Cooties and Cootettes: Lloyd Knight, Richard English, Henry Tellman, Howard Thompson, E. M. Timmons, Ety Lyle, Byron Larson, Joe Montore, Phil Arrigo, Charles Johnson, Elizabeth English, (Cootlette hospital chairman), Minnie Townley, Christine Thompson, Mary Tellman and Kay Johnson.

Services Held At Kinzua For Victim Of Crossing Crash

Final rites for Clayton E. Libbey, victim of Friday's train accident at Kinzua, were held from the home of his sister, Mrs. Joseph Van Buskirk, with the Rev. William Hills, pastor of Kinzua Methodist church, officiating.

Interment followed in the Kinzua cemetery, with Jessie English, Raymond Tuttle, Clifford Smith, Carl English, Louis Smith and Ray Tuttle serving as bearers.

In attendance from away were J. F. Bray, Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Bray, W. M. Bray, Toronto, O.; Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Glenn, Grove City; Mrs. Clara Carter, Warren; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Place, Erie.

Investigation into the accident was completed Saturday by the State police and coroner's office, after which a certificate of accidental death was issued.

It was learned that the train consisting of 69 loaded and four empty freight cars, drawn by three diesel units, was stopped within 425 feet after the impact at the crossing. Engineer R. H. Carr, of Youngsville, said the wreck of the Plymouth coupe, with the body of the driver still in it, hooked upon the first diesel unit, was dragged about 325 feet before it dropped off the right side of the tracks, free of the train, when two cars were derailed at a siding switch.

The body of Mr. Libbey did not fall underneath the train, but the head was inches away from the south rail. Fireman K. R. Nelson said he saw the Plymouth approach the crossing and in front of the train despite the fact that the horn was being sounded.

Two of four men loading lumber at a box car just north of the crossing told the officials they watched Mr. Libbey drive in front of the train, and both of them, Ralph Foster and Ray Ewing, employees of the William Penn Lumber Co., insisted the horn was being sounded on the diesel. One of the men remarked to the other, "He's going to get it."

Controversy Over School Jointure In Southwest District

Proposed jointure of the Southwest township school district was further complicated Friday when petitions were presented to a meeting of the Warren County School Board for affiliation with both Pleasantville and Titusville.

There were 177 signatures on the petition to join with Pleasantville, and 163 names on the one favoring jointure with Titusville. There were duplicating signatures on the petitions, but County Superintendent of Schools H. L. Blair said that the pro-Titusville petition was circulated after the Pleasantville one, and many signing for Titusville asked that their signatures be voided on the Pleasantville petition.

The county board only recently said that it did not approve of a jointure with the Pleasantville area schools as "not being economically practical and not being in accord with the wishes of the people of Southwest township." The board had approved a plan in which Southwest students in grades one through six would go to Pleasantville, and grades seven through 12 to Titusville.

Glee Club to Sing At Hospital March 27th

One of the best college glee clubs in the country, that of the University of Pittsburgh, will sing in the new activities building at Warren State Hospital on Friday evening, March 27, as part of a tour through this section which take the club to Buffalo the next night.

Presentation of the Pitt Glee club will be in connection with a variety show which is being arranged for entertainment of the hospital patients. There will be a dance following the program.

The college singers, 51 in number, are brought here through the efforts of Lewis L. McCullough, a junior at Pitt and business manager of the club, who is the son of Pierce McCullough, farm superintendent at the hospital, and Mrs. McCullough.

In his remarks, president Christiansen said that while the principal objective of the S.P.E.B.S.Q.S.A. is to preserve the good old institution of the Barbershop Quartet and to "Keep America Singing," a close second is the obligation of the Society to do all possible for the betterment of the community. He said he spoke for all Chapter members when he expressed the hope that this television set would lighten the passing hours of the ladies at the hospital through the entertainment it would bring.

Mr. Lawrence, in accepting the set on behalf of the Hospital, thanked the Barbershoppers for their thoughtfulness of the people in his care, and wished them continuing success in all their activities.

Los Angeles Club Hears Story About The First Oil Well

Los Angeles — The Los Angeles Breakfast club heard the story of the world's first oil well at Titusville, Pa., from Edward Steidle, dean of the School of Mineral Industries of Pennsylvania State College, in an address here.

"It is hard to realize," Dean Steidle said, "that the petroleum industry, one of the largest industries in the country, stemmed less than a hundred years ago from the courageous initiative of a canal boat operator, two lawyers, a retired railroad conductor and a blacksmith."

"Uncle Billy" Smith, the blacksmith, dipped a container into a well he had completed August 27, 1859 for the conductor, "Col." E. L. Drake, and found oil, the speaker said. The oil was shipped to Pittsburgh to be refined by the former canal boat operator, Samuel Kier, the club was told. The two New England lawyers who had formed the company to drill for oil, the educator explained, were George H. Bissell and Jonathan G. Eveleth.

"What had been termed 'Drake's Folly' was quickly recognized as a new and inexpensive way of producing untold quantities of crude oil," Steidle said. "The growth of this new industry never wavered from that day on."

The drilling of the first oil well, the speaker added, "was an event that could happen only in a country where men were free to do what appeared foolish, and to risk great losses on the small chance that great gains could be their personal reward if they were successful."

Steidle called attention to the establishment at Penn State of four undergraduate scholarships in memory of Colonel Drake by John P. Herriek of Olean, N. Y., a breakfast club member.

"The promising young men who are aided by these scholarships," Steidle said, "will take their proper place in that vast army of mineral technologists who will work out the destiny of the petroleum industry."

$11,000,000 Will Be Spent on Gamma Globulin Campaign

New York—The March of Dimes will spend $11,000,000 for gamma globulin in launching the nation's first massive war of prevention against paralytic polio. It was announced today by Basil O'Connor, president of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

Mr. O'Connor said the $11,000,000 would be spent through June 30, 1954 in a long-range plan aimed at saving the nation through any polio emergencies that might arise during the next two years.

The National Foundation had announced earlier that it would spend upwards of $5,000,000 for gamma globulin supplies through June 30 of this year, but since then, Mr. O'Connor said, "We have recognized there are no indications of any sharply increased production of this material."

"It became clear," he added, "that we must now plan to assist the nation to the greatest extent possible in producing the maximum amount for the polio season of 1954."

Gamma globulin is a fraction of adult human blood which contains disease-fighting antibodies. March of Dimes field studies in 1951 and 1952 proved GG—as it is called for short—to be temporarily effective in preventing the paralysis caused by polio.

The main drawback, Mr. O'Connor said—aside from the temporary nature of GG's effectiveness—is the fact that there is only a limited amount of equipment available to produce this material. As a result, it is in short supply. Stock inventories now available, together with all that may be produced this year, will provide only enough dosages for approximately 1,000,000 of the 46,000,000 children in the most susceptible age groups, Mr. O'Connor pointed out.

Mr. O'Connor said the long-range $11,000,000 program was hit upon as a means of providing "complete assurance" that a maximum number of children can be protected in 1954.

"It is true," Mr. O'Connor said, "that March of Dimes research has come up with an experimental vaccine which it is hoped will give permanent protection against polio. But the fact is, this substance has not yet been tested. Until it is, we must take every step possible in providing the nation with whatever protection is available."

Mr. O'Connor revealed that the gamma globulin involved in the purchases announced today is being sold to the March of Dimes voluntarily by five of the nation's leading pharmaceutical houses. They agreed on Feb. 16 to sell their entire inventories and production through June 30, 1954 to the National Foundation.

Gamma Globulin purchased in this manner, Mr. O'Connor explained, will be turned over to a national stockpile under control of the Office of Defense Mobilization for allocation according to a previously determined distribution plan.

Mr. O'Connor said part of the $11,000,000 would be spent on the purchase of fractionating equipment, needed in the processing of GG, as a means of widening the availability of the material. He explained the March of Dimes had two basic reasons for buying so-called "commercial" gamma globulin.

"In the first place," he said, "it has been proven that it is effective against measles and infectious hepatitis. Therefore, it is important that material needed for prevention of these diseases be a part of the over-all national stockpile for controlled allocation."

"And secondly, we hope that tests will show that much of this 'commercial' GG is equally effective against paralytic polio. The March of Dimes studies which proved the effectiveness of GG in relation to paralytic polio utilized gamma globulin collected in large pools and proven to contain antibodies to the three known polio virus types."

To be effective against polio, Mr. O'Connor added, GG must contain antibodies to all three virus types, since antibodies against one type will not protect against the other two types.

The GG which the March of Dimes is preparing to buy, Mr. O'Connor said, is collected by the pharmaceutical houses through their own blood banks and from placental material obtained from hospitals throughout the country.

"There is reason to believe," he declared, "that gamma globulin collected on this widespread basis may, on further testing, be found to be equal in effectiveness to the material used in our original field trials."

New Credit Card Being Distributed By Local Loan Co

"Anybody who has ever run short of ready cash while out of town will find the new Beneficial Cash-Credit Card a mighty handy thing to carry," said R. K. Wetzel, manager of the Personal Finance Company, which is located at 2 Liberty street.

"This card," continued Mr. Wetzel, "identifies the holder as a person of proven financial reliability. It is recognized at more than 700 affiliated 'Personal' offices from coast to coast in the United States and Canada. Time and again, it has proven a 'life saver' to thousands who ran out of funds in strange towns. Many use the card also, to arrange for the financing of a purchase through their local merchants."

"The Beneficial Cash-Credit Card is not issued to just anybody. It is registered and immediately issued only to those people who have demonstrated their reliability or can do so. Possession of the card stamps the holder as a person of financial integrity. Mr. Wetzel explained that the card, which is being issued now, has been used also to establish credit at an out-of-town hotel, to pay car expenses due to break down in a strange town.

"Our experience has shown," said Mr. Wetzel, "that the card enjoys its greatest popularity at vacation time and during heavy shopping periods. It is then the people need additional money quickly and use their card."

Mr. Wetzel issued an invitation to the people of Warren to apply for a Beneficial Nationwide Cash-Credit Card by dropping in to see him. There is neither cost nor obligation for this service as the holder pays only if he uses the card. Last year, over two million people carried these cards.

Aggressive Dragons Defeat Franklin, 62 to 50

Big Crowd Sees Wills Cleaners Lose to New York Barons

6 PLAYERS IN LAST GAME ON WARREN TEAM

The Dragons of Warren High helped bring down the curtain on schoolboy basketball Friday night by downing a fast Franklin ball club, 62-50, in a Section Two league encounter on the Beaty Junior High court. The tilt marked the end of a 21-game card for the locals, only 11 of which turned into victories, and was the last game for six seniors on the nine-man varsity squad.

Playing their last high school ball were Bob Wilson, Ron Isackson, Dick Hartnett, Bob Harrington, Jerry Leonard and Dick Lundahl. Bruce Duell, Gary Ettinger and Jerry Gordon are the only returnees.

Coach Joe Massa's floormen played fast and aggressive game to defeat the Nursery, after losing a 49-43 decision at Franklin, and finished in a two-way tie for third place in the conference standings. Both Warren and Franklin had 5-5 records.

Other league action saw Meadville High repeat as champion for the third straight year with a 55-42 lacing of Oil City, while winless Corry lost a 50-48 overtime fray to Titusville.

The Blue and White passers jumped off to an early 17-5 first period lead over the visitors, but had their spread cut to five points, 30-25, at intermission before taking up the pace again in the last half.

Dick Hartnett, who was the Dragon star in the scoring column with 17 points, led the first period attack with seven markers, while Jerry Leonard and Bob Wilson contributed six and four respectively. Ted Gealy, Nile Birchfield and Dick Graham garnered Franklin's five.

The Nurserymen came back fast in the second canto to outscore the locals, 20-13, Ted Brown and Gealy collecting 13 of Franklin's points. Mid-way in the frame, Gealy cut the Dragons' advantage to seven points and then Brown made three consecutive free throws to make it 25-21. Bruce Duell put up a two-pointer, Brown matched it and then tossed in his second fielder after Wilson's charity point. This brought Franklin back in the ball game, 28-25, but Duell hit again before the intermission horn.

Bob Harrington's one hander and free toss, along with Hartnett's twin-counter, was enough for a 10-point lead to start the Dragons off within the third chapter, but it was a long time before the game was put on ice.

Gealy and Ted Fuels combined efforts to slash Warren's margin to three points, 35-32. A free throw by Duell and fielders by Ron Isackson and Wilson made it 40-32, Warren. Graham dropped in three points, Duell hit with a one-hander, Brown matched it with a layup, and Jerry Gordon pushed one up to close the period with a seven point lead, 44-37.

Gordon's set shot opened up the last eight minutes of play, but Coach Dutkin's quintet was still determined and combined for eight quick points. This put the Nursery on an even basis with the Massmen, who only led 46-45 at this point in the game. However, Gordon contributed his third and last field goal and Duell and Wilson followed with four more markers. This time the advantage was never threatened to any extent.

Graham and Brown each made their charity tosses and Buell tallied on a fast break and shot from the black stripe. Another free toss was made by Brown, and then Wilson and Hartnett gathered four. Fultz finished off Franklin's scoring with a layup and Isackson closed the game with two fielders.

Holding the height advantage, the Dragons played a good game on the boards and used all the speed they had on the floor. The Massmen also turned in their usually fine performance from the foul line, tallying 14 in 17 tries, while Franklin only made 12 in 30 attempts.

While the individual honors went to Hartnett Friday night, Wilson and Duell marked up 12 and 10 respectively for Warren, and Gealy and Brown had 14 and 13 to lead Franklin.

Lou Cummings, District Ten Winner, to Enter Regional Competition At Clearfield

Lou Cummings became the second matman in the five years history of Warren High wrestling to win a District 10 crown Saturday night, when he won a fall over Erie Academy's Roger Schneider in 0.52 of the second period.

The 95-pound champ, still undefeated with 12 straight wins this season, will now enter Regional competition at Clearfield next Saturday with Districts 6-9, 5 and 10.

Cummings is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Cummings, 117 Ludlow street, and is one of three brothers on the Dragon squad.

Last year Carl Nelson, a 165 pounder, became the first Warren boy to earn a District title, but lost in the Regionals.

The southern sectional wrestlers, most of whom Coach Homer Barr's team faced this season, made a clean sweep of the District finals Saturday by winning 10 of the 11 matches over the Erie champs.

While Cummings will represent Warren at Clearfield, Greenville

Stout, Stub Meabon and Dick Wood combined efforts for 48 of Youngville's points, while Bashline racked up 16 to pace Pleasantville.

The Class A North Tier title in District Nine will be battled for between Kane and Bradford high schools on the Beaty Junior High court Tuesday night as a result of arrangements made yesterday by Floyd Fretz, superintendent of schools in Bradford, with Supt. Carl E. Whipple of Warren.

The playoff was made necessary Friday night, when Bradford edged the Wolves, 59-57, to split the two-game series.

This morning Supt. Whipple stated that no seats will be made available to local fans. With a seating capacity of 750, 50 duets will be for players and cheerleaders and the remaining 700 tickets will be split evenly between the two communities.

Walter Dukes Heads Choices On A.P.'s '53 Basketball Team

New York (AP)—The Pacific Coast Conference, the Ivy League, two eastern independents and one Pacific Northwest independent are represented on the 1953 Associated Press collegiate All-America basketball team.

Named to the first team by a vote of 201 sportswriters and broadcasters were:

Walter Dukes, 6-11, star of Seton Hall's top ranked team. Little Johnny O'Brien, 5-8, scoring sensation of Seattle University.

Bob "Hooks" Houbregs, 6-7, who led the University of Washington to the title in the northern division of the Pacific Coast Conference.

Tom Goia, 6-6, sophomore of La Salle's defending Nit champions.

termed by his coach, Ken Loeffler, "the most natural basketball player I've ever seen."

Ernie Beck, 6-4, whizz of the University of Pennsylvania who has kept the Red and Blue in the thick of the fight for the Ivy League championship.

Dukes, who displayed tremendous improvement on the court this season compared to a year ago, led in the voting by a big majority. On the basis of five points for a first team vote and two for a second team vote he received a total of 684 points, including 134 first team ballots.

O'Brien, who makes up for his lack of height with terrific leg spring, got 502 points. Houbregs followed with 450, then Goia with 380 and Beck with 364.

Franklin High Will Engage New Staff For All Its Sports

The directors, according to Dr. Moore, also intended the action to "clear up any misunderstandings" regarding the length of athletic department assignments. The assignments were awarded on a one year basis, usually on the basis of recommendations of the athletic committee.

Athletic assignments for the past year have been:

Athletic director—E. W. Treadwell.

Football—Varsity coach, John Uram; assistants, Wayne Eakin and Bob Flath; junior high, Alex Dutkin.

Basketball—Varsity, Dutkin; junior varsity, Eakin; junior high, Uram.

Wrestling—Flath.

It was learned from the Oil City Derrick in its Saturday edition that the Franklin School Board has met in a special session and thrown all the positions as athletic coaches and director of Franklin High School wide open in a sweeping move that is expected to cure many of the ills of the school's physical education department in relationship to scholastic competition.

The move was made in contemplation of rebuilding the coaching staff with a greater degree of harmony in the various athletic groups. It has been no secret that from the top to the bottom, recent years have found nothing but disagreement and lack of cooperation among the athletic staff.

The directors resolved to notify all persons employed in the Athletic Department that "all assignments are terminated as of the close of the current term or at the termination of the season of the sport under his supervision."

Although the action indicated a realignment of the coaching assignments at the school, the directors would only agree that there is a "possibility of a change."

Dr. Harry H. Moore, superintendent of the school, stated that applications would be received from teachers interested in assignments in the athletic department. The qualifications of each person will be studied before the assignments are announced. The applications are to be submitted by March 10.

Explaining their action, the directors state the resolution was "in keeping with a proposal for effecting a better coordinated athletic program." There were indications some of the directors felt the lack of a unified program and cooperation between members of the coaching staffs had been detrimental to Nursery athletics in the past.

VISITORS ARE OUTPLAYED BY WARREN TEAM

Wills Cleaners found a seven point third-period lead all knotted up, 46-46, at the end of regulation time and then went on to lose a 50-47 overtime decision to the visiting New York Barons before a large crowd at Beaty Junior High gym Saturday night.

Playing heads-up ball the local Y-City League aggregation tagged onto a 15-10 advantage in the first stanza and still held a two-point spread at halftime, that was moved to 38-31 after a 13-point spurge in the third canto.

After trailing almost the entire game, the Barons edged ahead once, 44-43, late in the final chapter. Bob Reese tied it up with a foul shot and then a Wills' jump shot made it 46-44, before the Barons' Huran dropped in two charity tosses to make it 46 all.

In the overtime Moore hit first for the visitors and Threats followed with another fielder against Carmen Colosimo's foul shot for the losers.

Individual scoring honors in the contest went to Threats and Moore of the New Yorkers, with 14 and 13 points respectively. Reese and Colosimo were high men for Wills with nine and eight markers.

In the prelim the Rockets outlasted the Sigma Phi Epsilon team from Westminster, 53 to 43. Bob Wilson was top pointmaker for the Rockets with 15 points, but game honors went to Rod Kerchner, a Warren boy, who tallied 16 counters for the Sig Eps.

M'Clintock Tallies 10th Straight Win, East Defeats Lacy

Dave Olson's "Jeds" from McClintock approached the end of a perfect season Saturday afternoon, when they won a 39-31 decision and their 10th straight victory over South Street in the Gray cage loop. In the other fracas, East Street broke out of the cellar by downing a scrappy Lacy team 24 to 19.

Faced by Nicky Croola's 10 points, McClintock tagged on to a 12-3 first period lead and were ahead 31-17 before South rallied for 14 points in the closing frame. South's Dick Fowler shared the afternoon honors, matching Croola's five fielders.

Other scoring for McClintock was done by H. Kane and Joey Massa, who had six and five points respectively, and Tom Watson. Joe Castagnino and Irvine, with four apiece, and Kane, Minelli and Rosenquist each had two. Pete Ostergard was second high man for the day with nine for South, Cassell, Mascaro and Lester with six, four and two in that order.

Leading by only two points at the close of three quarters of nip

Ralph Kiner Says He and Rickey Are About $9,000 Apart

Palm Springs, Calif. (AP)—Ralph Kiner, the Pittsburgh Pirates' home run king, acknowledges he's a 1953 holdout.

And a little simple arithmetic indicates he and general manager Branch Rickey are about $9,000 apart in their dicker for the slugger's services.

As his teammates reported yesterday for spring training at Havana, Cuba, Kiner said he had accepted an offer to Rickey a week ago to join them.

It was an acceptance, Ralph said, of terms offered by Rickey in a conference at a Hollywood hotel Feb. 13.

The reported sum involved was $76,500—a cut from Kiner's reported $90,000 salary last year when his batting average slipped to .244.

Yesterday in Havana, Rickey said he hadn't received Kiner's letter of acceptance—and that new salary talks would have to start on the basis of a 25 per cent salary slash. That figures out to $67,500.

Kiner responded: "Under those terms I'm going to have to be a holdout."

He said he accepted the Feb. 13 "substantial" but because Rickey allowed him to report two weeks later for training. This would enable him and his wife, tennis star Nancy Chaffee, to operate their gift shop here that much longer at the height of the tourist season in this desert resort.

Dayton's Defeat Of Seton Hall Is Tops In Basketball News

By ORLO ROBERTSON
New York. (AP)—Only one position remained open in each of the two major postseason basketball tournaments today but the big news was the Dayton Flyers, who'll not be in either one.

The Flyers, who went to the finals of the National Invitation Tournament and lost to Illinois in the first round of the National Invitation Collegiate Athletic Association Tourney last year, topped Seton Hall from the unbeaten ranks, 71-65, at Dayton last night.

Seton Hall, the nation's No. 1 ranked team and seeded first in the NIT, had racked up 27 victories before running into a Dayton team that had lost 13 of its 27 starts this season.

Meantime, the lineup for the NCAA championship test was far from settled even though only one team is needed to complete the 22-team bracket.

Messadegh's Supporters Keep Control

personnel was ordered to keep off the streets.

Messadegh, meanwhile moved to re-establish his hold on the government's reins after the mob attack on his home Saturday which sent him dashing in pajamas for the traditional sanctuary of the Parliament Building.

The government arrested 70 army officers—65 retired and five on the active list—and accused them of meeting the demonstrators against the government.

Messadegh also fired his army chief of staff, Gen. Mahmud Bahar, accusing him of not acting promptly to check the anti-government rioters.

These continued today—an anti-Messadegh mob raided the headquarters of the pro-Messadegh Iran party and smashed furniture and windows—but generally today's demonstrations were in support of the premier.

County Red Cross Drive For $26,117 Is Launched

In the Missouri Valley Floods just a year ago, and in the southern tornadoes that followed shortly after, the American Red Cross aided 18,400 families at a cost of more than $2,574,000. These were but two of the 289 operations in which the Red Cross gave assistance to disaster victims.

In addition to these two important activities the local chapter of the Red Cross conducts Safety Service Programs, competent Nursing Service and oversees the activities of Junior Red Cross; besides aiding in the work with men in the armed services; in camps and hospitals, as well as looking after family and personal matters for these men, when called upon to do so.

The budget assigned the local chapter of the American Red Cross this year of $26,117 represents an increase of 10% over that of a year ago and is caused mainly by the increased part the Red Cross will play in collecting for its Blood Donor program and the gamma globulin derivative which is a new and important adjunct of this blood donor program.

A. M. Gibson, campaign chairman is confident that all of Warren County will support the Red Cross Fund Drive this year since the people of the area know the facts and the needs that exist. And, his quiet confidence is shared by others who have active charge of the drive.

The Special Gifts Committee, under the Chairmanship of Wallace Cowden; the Industrial Division under H. N. Elmquist and the Commercial Division, under Chairman Creed A. Erickson, have been actively planning their part of the campaign for many weeks and expect this week will show their plans have been well made.

Perhaps the most interest will be evidenced at Red Cross Headquarters this week in the work of the county and borough teams whose duty it will be to make house to house calls on practically every home in the borough and county. Since there will be no solicitation of men and women workers in the industrial plants and offices here is where the bulk of the subscriptions of cash and pledges must be secured.

Donald E. Schuler again heads the important county set up while Ralph E. Sires, assisted by Mrs. Harold Baker, Mrs. Richard G. Smith and Mrs. A. R. Stubbs, will have charge of the collections in the borough.

The hundreds of volunteer workers who set forth this morning on the important work of soliciting residents of all sections of the borough and county have been well briefed and well trained as to the nature of their exacting duties.

As they meet success or failure on their round of calls this week so will the Red Cross Fund in Warren county meet success or failure.

All persons solicited by any of the vast number of volunteer workers this week or next, throughout the month of March for that matter, are asked to give generously to the Red Cross and, where at all possible, to increase their gifts by at least 10% over what was given a year ago.

Taproom Entertainer Chokes on Four Eggs

Pottsville (AP)—A part-time entertainer visiting a taproom choked to death in attempting to demonstrate he could hold four unshelled eggs in his mouth. Deputy Coroner G. Ryland Lord reported today.

Lord, listing the death of Hobart Heckman, 59, of Pottsville as accidental, gave this version of what happened:

Heckman was in the John Zedoni Cafe in Pottsville Saturday night when someone challenged his ability to place four eggs in his mouth without cracking the shells, a trick Heckman claimed to have done previously.

Four hardboiled eggs, unshelled, were obtained and Heckman popped them one by one into his mouth. Suddenly he began to choke as one of the eggs slipped into his throat. Others persons in the cafe attempted to aid him, some by slapping him on the back, but the egg was lodged tightly and Heckman was dead on arrival at a hospital.

Lots of Things Happen To This Young Pilot

Rochester, Pa. (AP)—A 19-year-old airplane pilot has only a bruised hand today as proof of a hair-raising experience which might have cost his life.

Myron L. Shoaf of Youngwood was on a training flight from Greensburg to Butler yesterday when these things happened:

His fuel supply got dangerously low. He tried to land on Route 51 but spotted an auto on the highway just where he planned to come down. He gunned his plane back into the air, just missing the top of the car.

His ship rose only a few feet into the air, then hit a power line and flipped over, landing upside down in a small stream.

Occupants of the car helped Shoaf squirm out of his wrecked ship.

Attendants at Providence General Hospital here painted his hand with iodine and sent him home.

No Clues to Slayer Of Butler Co. Woman

Butler (AP)—Whereabouts of a slaying victim's husband posed a mystery today with state police refusing to confirm or deny rumors he is in custody.

The husband is Ernest E. Storch, wife was found strangled and stabbed Tuesday in the couple's home near Zelienople on Route 18.

Mrs. Alice Storch, the victim, was buried at services in Pittsburgh Saturday. Her husband did not attend the services and relatives said they did not know where he was.

State police questioned Storch and others in the case and then disclosed they had no clues as to the slayer.

No Person Injured In Three Accidents Over Weekend

nue, who told police that he struck a mailbox at Conewango and Jefferson. The incident was referred to postal authorities.

Other police activities over the weekend included the investigation of larceny of a purse in a local industry.

A reported free-for-all fight on the west side early Saturday morning sent officers to the scene, but all was quiet when they arrived. Early Sunday morning, about one o'clock, residents over a local restaurant complained of noise from below. Officers found carpenters installing a new floor in the establishment.

A nurse at Warren General Hospital reported to police about three a. m. Sunday that strange noises were emanating from a new wing of the building. Officers investigated but found nothing out of order.

Last evening, police assisted a local resident to return his wife to Warren State Hospital. She had been out on a visitor's pass for the day and became unmanageable. Also last evening, residents of the 400 block of Water street reported a parked car blocking the street. Police found a car with its motor disabled, and pushed it to one side to clear the street.

In totaling up February accidents, police report one more accident than in February of 1952, but only one person injured as against three injuries last year. Property damage was listed as $2809, compared with $2700 in 1952.

Reorganization Plan Discussed By Cabinet

Washington. (AP)—Sen. Taft (R-O.) said today President Eisenhower probably will send Congress a reorganization plan next week asking Cabinet status for the Federal Security Agency.

Taft made the statement to newsmen after he and other GOP congressional leaders conferred with Eisenhower at the White House.

He and House Speaker Martin (R-Mass.) said the conference also dealt with Hawaiian statehood and legislation to recognize state titles to the oil-rich submerged coastal lands.

Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby, the federal security administrator, joined the congressional leaders at their regular weekly conference with the President.

Wildcat Well To Be Drilled In Eldred Twp.

Titusville (AP)—The Mid-East Oil Co. of Pittsburgh will start work soon on a deep well, the first wild cat hole sunk in the Titusville area since 1945.

Frank Irvin of Renovo, who brought in the Fiddle Fanny gas well in Clinton County, will drill the well in Eldred Township, Warren County, about 11 miles north of Titusville. The two last deep wells drilled in the Titusville area, in 1928 and 1945, were dry. However, there is a productive field about 14 miles away.
